How the Election Returns were Received at Galena

At Galena as we learn from the Gazette of that city the returns of the October elections were received on the evening of their occurrence, in E B Washburne's library General Grant his two aids General Comstock and General Badeau and several other gentlemen being present After some preliminary and unimportant dispatches were received and read the real interest of the evening began We copy from the Gazette

'The operator hands a dispatch to Mr Washburne he runs his eye over it and says sharply, What does this mean?' All voices are still and he reads

INDICATIONS NOW ARE THAT THE DEMOCRATS HAVE CARRIED PHILADELPHIA BY 8,000 MAJORITY 'It endangers the State' says one 'oh it must be a bogus report' says another No report is still another, 'it comes from a reliable source' The friends in the room become nervous, but General Grant puffs away undisturbed 'Why don't we hear from the West? Where is Alleghany I fear our fellows at Philadelphia have gone off at half-cock' says an impatient gentleman The telegraph now gives us Ohio returns but they are comparatively devoid of interest, as that State is deemed safe Yet, only 15,000 majority is now claimed—a reduction of one half from the first report, and then Gibson is defeated, Eggleston is defeated Ashley has 'gone up' 'Nothing yet from Indiana Why don't we hear something from the Hoosiers? Where is Colfax?' 'The thing is getting a little uncomfortable,' suggests a gentleman on the end of the sofa A few scattering returns were now coming in from Indiana and they are not bad the State seems safe But the cloud of the 8,000 majority in Philadelphia is not yet lifted The telegraph ceases to talk election returns—speculation goes on, but the anxiety to hear further from the Keystone State becomes most oppressive The operator seizes his pencil and all realize that something important is coming The moment is pregnant with an awful interest Will the dispatch that is now being written out assure us of our triumph in Pennsylvania, securing the election of General Grant, or will it tell us that the Democrats have carried the State, throwing the Presidential election in the greatest doubt?' The dispatch is handed to Mr Washburne—every man is intent. He reads it nervously

Philadelphia has certainly gone Republican by a small majority and the Republican State ticket is elected by 20 000 majority

Every man in the room, save the candidate jumps to his feet, and three cheers go up with such a vim and power as to almost raise the ceiling Every one is intensely excited except General Grant, who puffs away the same as ever Further from Indiana 'State claimed by the Republicans by 1 000 majority' Nebraska now comes in with her 1 500 or 2 000 majority The gentlemen in the room are no longer seated Every man is talking The business is settled Galena has the next President, sure We can now go home and sleep soundly' 'But,' quietly remarks the General 'how is that about that 8,000 Democratic majority in Philadelphia?' 'Oh! that's played out Kemble telegraphs the true returns, and he knows'

'Music, with its voluptuous swell' is heard The news of our successes had reached the anxious crowd at the Gazette office, and the Lead Mine Band soon made its appearance in front of Mr Washburne's residence After playing two or three patriotic airs, cries went up for 'Grant,' and soon the General appeared on the piazza and bowed his acknowledgments amidst terrific cheering Other tunes were played, when Mr Washburne was loudly called for, who responded in a brief but earnest congratulatory speech He was followed by the Hon Mr Morris in a few eloquent words when further cheers were given, and the band retired At one o'clock in the morning, Mr Washburne's guests bade him good cheer. We remained till three o'clock, to get the last returns for our morning extra, which appeared under the cut of that 'Same Old Coon,' which has graced the columns of the Gazette on the occasion of every Whig and Republican victory in the country since 1840"

From the Panama Star and Herald Oct 6

On the recent occasion of Gen Acosta presenting his credentials of President Johnson as Minister Plenipotentiary and Envoy Extraordinary from the United States of Colombia to the United States of America, President Johnson, among other rather astute remarks, said Gen Acosta Providence has been exceedingly bountiful to the Colombian Republic While it is rich in its resources, it also contains an Isthmus, only thirty four miles wide and forty feet high, across which a ship canal can be made to connect the two oceans and to control and ultimately transfer the commerce of the world

What a stupid set of people the engineers who surveyed and built the Panama Railroad were never to have discovered this 40 foot summit instead of running over 260 feet No doubt this late piece of scientific intelligence will be received with wonder and delight by every one interested in the ship canal

The President then goes on to inform Gen Acosta that Colombia has actually manifested great spirit and enterprise in permitting and encouraging citizens of the United States to construct a railroad across the Isthmus of Panama He hopes that the General's stay in the States will be prolonged at least two years in about which time he may expect to see citizens of the United States construct and complete the longed desired ship canal across the isthmus of Darien

If the address had been delivered by an ordinary citizen we should call it twaddle, but coming from the President of the greatest Republic in the world we are bound to respect and believe it so we will rest satisfied that the Isthmus is only forty feet high and that a ship canal will be built across it within the next two years that is to say if President Johnson be appointed Chief Engineer and Gen Sullivan the present Minister from Washington to Bogota, appointed Treasurer, with that one hundred and fifty millions of dollars in his coffers which the Bogota papers inform us his Government has placed at his disposal for the purpose The United States is a great country, and greatly represented

SECRETARY SEWARD AND MATRIMONY —A Washington correspondent of the Cincinnati Commercial is responsible for the following bit of Court gossip

The lady whom Mr Seward is to lead to the altar is but twenty six years of age Her father is a close friend of Governor Fenton and a resident of Chautauqua county, in the southwestern part of New York She is a fine figure of a woman, as Joe Gargery would say being large in shoulders and figure with a face expressive of strong will, dark eyes rather prominent mouth and chin and she is said to be a very brilliant conversationalist discussing the newest gossip and the Holy Alliance with about equal intelligence and flavor Her family are well satisfied with the the match and [illegible] lately deceased [illegible] was the recipient of many favors from Mr Seward [illegible] [illegible] and in his domestic relations has always been kind [illegible] and faithful as parent and husband

It is not [illegible] she replied, for Mr Seward

A Decided Set Back

Last June the Democrats [illegible] by a majority which so magnified [illegible] that party. Three months later the Legislature assembled and the Democrats [illegible] in that body having a popular majority at their back of 1208 votes, imagined that they had full license to do whatever they would. Feeling confident that their party would sustain them in anything they might undertake, they thought it entirely safe to give a loose rein to their Democratic propensities and [illegible] to the fullest extent the revolutionary doctrines of their party. The acts of this Legislature are familiar to all, and we need not rehearse them. Before the election of last week the Democratic managers made a special appeal to the people to sustain by their votes the acts of the majority of the Legislature. The party organs told us that the people would now have an opportunity to speak on this subject, and predicted the vindication of the legislative action of the Democrats by an overwhelming majority. The Radical conspirators were to be rebuked and put to shame and the horn of Democracy was to be mightily exalted. And great was the glee in anticipation of a "rebuke of the Radicals" and a triumphant vindication of legislative Ku Kluxism.

Now note the difference between the promise and the result. The great majority of last June has melted away. The Republicans fighting against great odds and the prestige of the signal Democratic victory obtained less than half a year ago have gained the most remarkable success ever achieved in Oregon. If they have not carried the State they have come within a few dozen votes of it, and the full returns may yet give them a clear majority. And they have actually carried counties enough to have given them a majority of the Legislature, had members of that body been chosen at this election. Thus the present Legislature of Oregon has been repudiated by the people. This is the substantial stubborn fact, and no amount of sophistry or denial can make it appear otherwise. Oregon repudiates the Legislature which has repudiated the National Constitution. Oregon demands the resignation of the men who have maligned her faithful Senators and "instructed" them to resign. Oregon rebukes the folly and wickedness of those who have attempted to put her in antagonism with the declared will of the nation, and who have tried to place her foremost in the work of undoing the glorious achievements of the last eight years.

We are fully satisfied with this result, whether the electoral vote of the State has been secured for Grant and Colfax, or whether the Democrats have carried it by half a hundred, as some of them claim. The substantial fact is that the great Democratic majority of last June has been wiped out, and the reckless, partisan, violent action of their party in the Legislature has been the chief cause of this result. In Ohio last year the Democrats had the Legislature, and they conducted themselves in such an unseemly manner that the people repudiated them, and they will not have another majority in the Ohio Legislature for the next ten years. It is thus everywhere. Let the grabbing Democracy obtain an accidental lease of [illegible]er, and they immediately make themselv[illegible] odious as to destroy utterly their chances [illegible] another victory. The reactionary spirit of Copperheadism, so near akin to rebellion, will show itself whenever it has opportunity; and though the more discreet members of the party may deprecate it, no amount of good counsel or wise conjuring can keep this spirit down.

This election demonstrates the fact that the Republicans on the next trial can carry the State triumphantly. All that is required to secure this result is concentrated effort, the suppression of faction and steady labor for a common object. We can elect the next Legislature and prevent a repetition of the outrages which have been perpetrated recently by the Democratic majority in that body for partisan purposes. The people of Oregon do not want to see a second exhibition of the raw head and bloody bones of Ku Kluxism.

The following from the New York World of the 29th October, throws some light on the cause of the Democratic defeat. "The Democratic party has evidently been injured by the aspersions cast upon it by the indiscreet letter of Blair to Brodhead, which has been successfully used by the Republicans. It says it is simple justice that the party should be cleared of these aspersions, and says the party, as a body, has no other means of clearing itself of this injurious imputation than by futile contradictions in its public journals. But there are individuals who can extinguish this calumny in a moment and silence it forever, and this must be done if we are to win the election. This is a time for plain talk, and we hope we have spoken intelligibly enough for those whom it most concerns to take our meaning."

The present amount of Government paper currency is, in round numbers, about as follows:

Greenbacks	$356 000 000
Fractionals	32 000 000
Three per cent notes	50 000 000
Federal Currency	$438 000 000
National Bank notes	300 000 000
Total	$738 000 000

The average worth of this currency during the past year has been about 70 per cent. The gold value of the currency at this rate would be about $516 600 000, showing that its purchasing power is $211,400,000 less than its nominal value. The true thing to be done is to increase its amount and appreciate the value of paper currency to the standard of gold.

PHILADELPHIA.—It turns out that the Democratic majority in the city of Philadelphia is neither 2,000 nor 1,200, as had been claimed, but barely 165 on the test vote for Auditor General, and 205 for Surveyor General, which were the only State offices in issue. Here are the official figures:

FOR AUDITOR GENERAL

Hartranft, Republican	60,073
Boyle, Democrat	60,[illegible]
Democratic majority	165

FOR SURVEYOR GENERAL

Campbell, Republican	60,600
Ruis, Democrat	60,8[illegible]
Democratic majority	[illegible]

Says Beriah: "It is no less a Democratic principle to support the General Government in its whole constitutional vigor than it is to support the State Governments in all their reserved rights." Was Beriah supporting the General Government in its whole constitutional vigor when he wrote in the San Francisco Examiner in 1861: "The pretense of using the military power of the Government to suppress rebellion or put down insurrection or compelling the return of seceding States to the Union by force of arms is [illegible] at the most [illegible] on which the Government was founded"?

Advertisement for the Democratic papers: "Lost—The Great Reaction which the Democracy found and crowed over so lustily in 1867."

A Change of Tactics

The principal employment of the Herald for a year past has been to show that General Grant is a mere man of clay who can be moulded into any required shape by the hands of his Radical masters. That paper has called him a dolt, too shallow to have any opinions of his own and knowing nothing of affairs except as he is instructed by those who have control of him. He has been characterized by the Herald as a man who possesses no will, independence or [illegible], and [illegible] he has been steadily [illegible] as a willing tool in the hands of Washburne and others to do the behests of [illegible]. Arguments like these have been urged as reasons why he should not be elected President, and the Herald at a moderate computation has spent probably one hundred columns in this sort of labor. The people have been appealed to not to elect a man who it has been alleged would be used continually by the Radicals to carry out their designs. They have heard all this until their [illegible] have turned and their stomachs have become nauseated with it. But they will hear it no more, for a new sort of tactics has begun.

The Herald now affects to believe that Grant will Tylerize and Johnsonize the Republicans. After having labored a year to prove that he is a putty man whom the Radicals could and would control for their own purposes, it suddenly shifts about and intimates, if not predicts, that the Republicans will find in him a man who will do as he pleases, who will assert his own policy and follow his own judgment, who will break with his party and finally turn out to be as good a Democrat as anybody could desire. And the Herald actually seems to be getting ready to welcome him in the Democratic party and to praise his firmness, magnanimity and statesmanship, though it has been maligning and disparaging him without a moment's rest for nearly two years! That paper and its followers need give themselves no concern about these matters. General Grant is not a windy talker like Andrew Johnson, and when he says a thing he abides by it. And has he not said, and that quite recently, that he will never forgive or have anything to do with the Copperheads who opposed and hindered the war when the country was struggling for its very life with armed rebellion?

"We of Kentucky have a clear, distinct and mighty duty to perform. We have got to cast the mightiest possible majority for Seymour and Blair."—Louisville Courier.

It is clear from the Copperhead vote cast in the border counties of Indiana in October that "we of Kentucky cast our mightiest majority" across the river on that occasion; but the effort was not repeated with equal success on the 3d of November.

White Pine District in Nevada, about 130 miles south of Austin, is yielding enormous quantities of silver. The ore is found in a limestone deposit. Eighty pounds of ore yielded $800 in silver. Sixteen hundred pounds of ore returned four dollars to the pound. Two wagons arrived at Austin lately from the mines with six tons of silver bullion.

It was reported at the Dalles yesterday and telegraphed here that Baker county has given 200 Democratic majority. If this is true the issue looks less favorable for the Republicans. Three precincts reported in Grant county show decided Republican gains. There are no material changes to note in the other figures we have heretofore given.

The Copperhead concern of this city talks about the Democrats of California having made "a gallant fight against great odds." Singular, isn't it, when it is remembered that the Democratic majority in that State last year was 9,546? And now the State goes Republican. Another instance of remarkable "Democratic gains."

The Enterprise says that "the Oregon Herald is in a dreadful bad fix. It is suggested that Beriah is expecting a discharge as soon as a successor can be obtained at a salary which the establishment can stand. We beg leave to suggest the name of Gen J. W. Jasper of the McMinnville Courier."

In California we secure the electoral vote for Grant and Colfax, and elect two of the three Congressmen. Pretty good for a State which went against us only a year ago by nearly 10,000.

The people of Wisconsin will now get rid of the renegade and apostate Senator Doolittle. This is one of the blessed results of the election. And the nation will get rid of him too.

The total vote of Colorado is 8,161.

N. B. Forrest

To show forth the style of argument used by Democrats during the Presidential campaign, we quote the following from a speech delivered by Fort Pillow Forrest at Jackson, Tennessee, on the 14th of October. Those who read it will not be at a loss to understand why a party having such leaders did not succeed in the election:

We said, having broken the bargain wilfully and deliberately, we are not bound; we will separate. You said, here is a compact for a perpetual union—pointing to that clause, you shall not go. To this we replied, the Constitution is an entire compact, one part is as binding as the other; having trampled one part under your feet, we will not be bound by the rest. There being no common arbiter to decide that question, an appeal is made to the sword, the "argumentum ad hominum" of nations. Who struck the first blow or fired the first gun, is an immaterial issue, except that it enabled the real thieves to cry "thief," the real incendiary to cry "fire, fire, fire," the real traitors who had planned war and destruction to the Union to cry "Union, Union, Union." Many hundreds of thousands of men deceived by these men, without inquiry, rushed as they supposed to the rescue of the Union. In defending ourselves in our country, in our Southern States, we levied no war on you. Mark that. You call us traitors, while traitors are in power. The passions of the people, excited to turn off public attention from themselves and prevent scrutiny into their manifold derelictions, this party raised the mad cry of "rebels, rebels, traitors, traitors." But when the historian in other days, [illegible] high above the passions of the hour, with no incentives but to subserve truth, weighing all things, turning to the Constitution in all its parts and history, then turning to your leagues, your newspaper editors, your legislative acts, your aggressions, the [illegible] and Constitution condemning speeches of your leaders, will say these are the Benedict Arnolds and the Catalines who banded together to destroy the Union. These are the traitors.

Strange Phenomenon

HAVE WE A GHOST AMONG US?—SIGHTS SUPERNATURAL—CURIOUS SCENES IN A HAUNTED HOUSE.

During the past three or four months there have been many mysterious transactions at the farm of Hon. J. G. Sparks, about two miles north east of Olympia, occupied at present by Mr. L. G. Grimm and family, and to ascertain the facts in the case, we sent an unprejudiced reporter, who furnishes the following account:

STRANGE NOISES FIRST HEARD

About the above time various members of the family heard what they supposed to be some person enter the front door, go up stairs and cross the chamber floor. This occurred several times, both during the day and night. Not being able to find any one, they came to the conclusion that the noise was caused by the settling of the house.

PITCHES A CATHOLIC PRIEST OUT OF BED

About two months since a Catholic priest, a friend of the Sparks and Grimm families, called to remain over night. All retired at the usual hour and everything remained quiet until about two o'clock, when the reverend gentleman found himself lying in the middle of the room with most of the bedding on top of him. He came to the conclusion (not having heard of the former demonstrations nor either being spiritualist) that he had fallen out of bed. After recovering from the fall, which stunned him so severely that he was unable to get up for several minutes, he gathered his blankets and went back to bed. On awaking in the morning, he was somewhat surprised to find the very heavy feather bed he lay on when first retiring, and the pillows lying on the opposite side of the room. After being thrown from the bed, he made no light, and being quite badly hurt failed to discover the absence of the bed until daylight.

LOCKS THE FAMILY OUT OF DOORS.

Shortly after this, the family went to the spring, only a short distance, to wash, leaving all the doors ajar. On returning, they were unable to open any of them, and Mr Grimm, using his utmost strength to do so, came to the conclusion that some friend had come during his absence and fastened them out for a joke. He slipped around to the window, which he raised and entered. On approaching the doors he found none of them fast and each one open as usual.

SHAKING OF WINDOWS AND FALLING OF BOOKS

For the next two or three weeks, at different times, there would be a loud noise in an adjoining room, as though a window sash had fallen on the floor, and during the evening, while the family were sitting around the fire, the books would be thrown from the book case in the most violent manner.

A TERRIFIC CRASH

Some six weeks since, while the family were out in the yard, about one hundred yards from the house, they heard the most terrific crash, as though the cupboard had fallen. The children started to run to see what was the matter, but on a close inspection not a thing was found misplaced.

A WOMAN'S GHOST SEEN

About one month since, two of the children were occupying the same bed from which the priest was thrown. During the night, the elder, a boy about 12 years old, while lying awake, saw what he thought to be a woman dressed in white. She crossed the floor and descended the stairs four steps to the landing, where she remained a short time and then returned to the foot of his bed. He then called to his brother, who is a few years younger, to look and see that woman. The younger boy rose up and saw the figure, when he became frightened and called to his parents, who occupied a room below, and then covered up his head. The elder boy, however, continued watching, and before their father came up the figure disappeared behind the chimney, which stands in the middle of the room.

RELIABILITY OF THE FAMILY

The children have been brought up at home and have never heard a "ghost story" in their lives, and know nothing of fear or a "booger" in the dark, and have occupied the same bed up to this time. Mr and Mrs G. are as reliable citizens as any in the county and are not addicted to isms of any kind. The subject is to the enquiring ones, have we a ghost among us?

A GENTLE WHISPER TO MOTHERS.—If unfortunately you have lost your own teeth by neglect or mismanagement, take care that your daughters do not suffer the same penalty from the same cause. See to it that they brush their teeth thoroughly and regularly with Sozodont, and then you may insure them sound and serviceable teeth as long as they live.

THE NORTHWESTERN
Will loan a member a portion of the premium. This VIGOROUS COMPANY is now issuing 1,100 policies a month, and ranks among the 26 New York companies, third in number of members, fifth in [illegible] of [illegible]. IT IS A PURELY MUTUAL COMPANY, having no stockholders to absorb a portion of the profits. It makes its ten payment policies non forfeiting after one payment for one-tenth.
All companies doing business in Massachusetts make sworn statements of business, on the 1st of January of each year, to the Insurance Commissioners of that State. The report of the Commissioner for the year ending December 31, 1867, shows as follows:

Company	Paid Stockholders	Assets to [illegible] ties excluding stock capital	Average rate of interest earned	Ratio per cent of expenses to receipts
Northwestern	Purely Mutual	119.17	8.05	27.61
New England	Purely Mutual	118 97	[illegible]	25 85

THE RATIFICATION JUBILEE.—The Republicans of this city and neighborhood held a big jubilation upon Saturday night, in honor of the great national Union victory of last Tuesday. At about seven o'clock bonfires were lighted in every part of the city [illegible] the east bank began firing a salute of one hundred guns, and rockets were sent up from various points to announce the beginning of the exercises. A tremendous crowd was shortly assembled in front of the [illegible] Hotel whence the torchlight procession at half past seven started marching. First of the [illegible] by the Mechanics band and the second by a martial band. The procession [illegible] when marching [illegible] the length of [illegible] blocks, but the crowd of people who swarmed along the sidewalks on both sides attended [illegible] to the rear [illegible] must have numbered thousands. The procession in the streets contained [illegible] many transparencies [illegible] and [illegible] were many [illegible]. The Democratic eagle was represented in all sorts of farcical dilapidation [illegible] there were [illegible] palpable hits. The [illegible] and Exchange Hotels with the intervening [illegible] and several on the [illegible] side of the street were brilliantly illuminated, [illegible] the column moved along its appointed route, its approach was greeted with [illegible] all along Front, [illegible] Fourth, Third, Salmon, Alder, Washington and First. Huge bonfires were lighted at nearly every street intersection [illegible] and at every subsequent one which the procession turned. Rockets and Roman candles were fired at various points along the route. Capt. McCormick's residence was brilliant with lights and fireworks and the vast crowd cheered tremendously as it passed. The residences of Mr. Butler and Mr. Goodman on Fourth street were lighted up [illegible] and ornamented with great brilliancy and taste. There were great numbers of other private residences illuminated along the route and everywhere the balconies were filled with ladies who waved their handkerchiefs and men who gave cheers in answer to those of the procession. The enthusiasm was genuine, and the procession scarcely a half block at any time without breaking out with loud and prolonged cheers. When moving down Fourth street the greater part of the men in the procession joined with great spirit in singing "Marching through Georgia." After making the tour of the principal streets, the procession moved up to the Court House where Gov. Woods, Messrs Logan, Meacham [illegible] made brief, spirited and congratulatory speeches. The vast court room was filled to its utmost with joyous Republicans who manifested enthusiasm and cheered again and again as the speaker recounted how the loyal men of the nation had won the second great struggle for our country under our always invincible leader—Grant. The [illegible] kept up till almost midnight. We must not [illegible] mention that Capt. Knott of the Ferry boat, [illegible] and ran her free of charge during the entire evening for accommodation of visitors from the east side. The steamer Ranger was also illuminated [illegible] arrived at seven, with a great crowd from Oregon City and [illegible] along shore. The demonstration [illegible] the numbers out and the numerous illumination of public and private houses, has not been equalled [illegible] since the news of the surrender of Lee to [illegible]

CITY ENTERPRISE.—The Enterprise comes to [illegible] a half sheet mostly filled with Laws of [illegible] States." Bro Ireland explains "We will [illegible] benefit of our patrons that no charge is [illegible] the papers issued on the 24th and 31st of Oct [illegible] this date. We packed up for the purpose of [illegible] the office, and have not been able to prepare for the regular issue of the paper since the [illegible] of that purpose. We have not at any time [illegible] business but have published such a sheet [illegible] in the meantime but by next Saturday will [illegible] no publication which will thereafter continue [illegible] interruption."

BOYS.—When the torchlight procession of Saturday reached the Court house the men laid down [illegible] and transparencies in the street, in front [illegible] After the outside people had retired, and the speaking was going on inside a band of boys [illegible] on the transparencies broke them up and [illegible] the fragments upon the bonfire. They also de[illegible] as the greater part of the torches [illegible] almost impossible that boys should perform [illegible] an act of vandalism, unless they had been [illegible] by such fellows as spiked the cannon the other [illegible]

[illegible]—During Gov Woods speech Saturday evening, and when he had ended a finely rounded period, [illegible] would naturally come in and just at the [illegible] between the period and the applause some one [illegible] loudly and clearly "Hurrah for Jake Smith," [illegible] the Seymour? of last election day. The Governor [illegible] spoiled but the interruption was so [illegible] of place and struck in so ludicrously that the [illegible] broke loose and came down with one of the loudest and wildest Hurrahs of the evening. Thus [illegible] proved that there is "only a step from the [illegible] to the ridiculous."

PORTLAND ACADEMY.—The next term of the Portland Academy and Female Seminary will open on the 23d inst. [illegible] have been made with experienced teachers [illegible] instruction, extra in instrumental music [illegible] crayon sketching etc. Under the management of President Gatch the course of this school has [illegible] steadily onward and upward and it now ranks [illegible] the best in the State.

[illegible]—The Astoria steamer arrived about 11 A [illegible] yesterday, nearly a full day behind her time. [illegible] to no fault beyond the fact of a prevailing heavy [illegible] on the Columbia river by which she was detained.

[illegible] ALONG WELL.—Charles Luche who was shot the other night by assassins was getting along well [illegible] to be considered out of danger, though [illegible] somewhat severely from his wound.

[illegible] GRAND BALL.—In the appropriate column will [illegible] the advertisement of the Emmet Guard, an [illegible] annual ball. We desire to give the word.

CATHARINE HOWARD.—This great historical drama by Alexander Dumas was produced at the [illegible] Theatre on Saturday evening, in a style which would do credit to any theatre or any company on this coast. The play itself is [illegible] a [illegible] natural effects [illegible] the admiration [illegible] Mr Bates [illegible] stage, with appropriate [illegible] costumes [illegible] which at once please the eye, gratify correct taste, and convert illusion [illegible] we desire to say to our [illegible] that [illegible] has ever taken half the pains [illegible] expense which Mr Bates has [illegible] in order to give us a [illegible] legitimate drama comparable with the best in other cities. He has furnished each piece with its own proper scenery [illegible] giving each night something new to the eye as well as the ear. He has [illegible] of course [illegible] great expense [illegible] interesting [illegible] established a legitimate [illegible] a liberal patronage [illegible] that the performances of the company [illegible] just what a correct taste [illegible] seems to us, is [illegible] established. It [illegible] whether [illegible] supply a want—for [illegible] amusement which [illegible] exists [illegible] has again and again expressed a wish [illegible] that Portland with a population of eight thousand [illegible] cultivated as the average to any city in the world [illegible] respon[illegible] every day [illegible] to give us a style of amusement [illegible] but almost and [illegible]

The drama of Catharine Howard [illegible] with respect to history [illegible] king, [illegible] the influence [illegible] the heart of a [illegible] even a young beautiful [illegible] woman and the dangers to which it exposes its votaries. It shows how ambition will pluck [illegible] the heart and plant those [illegible] growth which [illegible] and finally [illegible] death. Mrs Bates as Catharine Howard [illegible] with excellent truth and remarkable [illegible] striking transitions of emotion which [illegible] along her passage from the peasant's [illegible] to the throne of King Henry the Eighth. In [illegible] of her Athelwold which yet in her cottage home [illegible] the wife of the yet unknown [illegible] terrible fright at finding herself in the living tomb to which Athelwold had consigned her to save [illegible] from the King in the sudden revival of her ambitious dream when she learned the King had seen her, touched her brow with his lips, and placed a ring on her finger, in her fear remorse and despair upon the reappearance of the supposed dead Athelwold, the cold, heartless firmness with which she pursued her path to the throne, at every step crushing her own and Athelwold's hearts—in all these, she was excellent. Mr Bates, as Athelwold, acted finely in the scene where he gives his beautiful wife the sleeping potion, again where he goes into the vault to await her wakening, and splendidly when he appears to Catharine in the throne room and upbraids her for her perfidy and heartless ambition.

The other characters were supported moderately well. Mr Fuller, as the King, lost an opportunity for a piece of good acting in the scene where Catharine appears veiled and restores the ring he had placed upon her finger in the vault. Robinson was pretty fair as Martin Krinkley, the man who is "a man—and pays taxes." Miss Bird went through her part creditably and Miss Cummings appeared to better than usual advantage as a villager.

The piece will be produced again to night, and probably in even better style than on Saturday evening.

THE "LIVE YANKEE."—This bark was towed from the mouth of the Willamette river, last Friday night, to Oak Point where she will take on a deck load of lumber. She will probably go to sea on or about next Friday.

LECTURE.—Rev Mr. Wythe's next lecture on "Science and Infidelity," will be delivered to morrow evening.

THE NEXT QUARTER OF THE PORTLAND ACADEMY AND FEMALE SEMINARY will begin Nov. 23d, 1868. Prof. Sedlak has charge of Instrumental Music. Mrs. S. J. Ramsey teaches Oil Painting and a beautiful style of Crayoning. Persons not otherwise connected with the school can receive instruction at the Academy in Music and Painting. Lessons on Piano, Guitar, Violin or Flute $15 per quarter.

JUST RECEIVED and opening at Van Fridagh & Co., a large invoice of Paris Pattern Bonnets. Satin and Velvet Flowers and Fancy Feathers, extra heavy dress Satins and Moire Antiques of all shades. Jouvin's Kid Gloves, Ladies' and Gents' Silk Umbrellas, a large lot latest style Trimmings, the Extensible skirt to fit every body. Hats, Hat Frames and Bonnet Frames, etc etc etc.

BARMAN BROTHERS take pleasure in announcing to the citizens of Portland that they will open to day, the second edition of the latest styles of French Beavers of all colors, Cassimeres, velvet and silk vestings, ever brought to this city. Those desiring to have a fashionable suit made to order, should call on Barman Brothers and examine their stock. They also call the attention of tailors to the large stock in the above line, together with tailoring trimmings, which they are selling wholesale, at San Francisco prices.

Keep Disease at Bay.—Invalids, broken down in health and spirits by Chronic Dyspepsia or suffering from the terrible exhaustion which follows the attacks of acute disease, the testimony of thousands who have been raised as by a miracle from a similar state of prostration, by HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS, is a sure guarantee that by the same means you too may be strengthened and restored. But to those who stand in peril of epidemics, to all who by reason of exposure, privations and uncongenial climate or unhealthy pursuits may at any moment be stricken down, this paragraph is most particularly and emphatically addressed.—You, who are thus situated, are proffered an absolute safeguard against the danger that menaces you. Tone and regulate the system with this harmless medicinal Stimulant and Alterative, and you will be forewarned against the maladies whose seeds float around you in the air unseen. HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS are not only a standard Tonic and Alterative throughout the United States, but they are accredited by the certificates of the most distinguished citizens of the Union, to the people of all other lands. In Canada, Australia and the West Indies, they are gradually taking the place of all other stomachics, whether native or foreign, and as surely as truth is progressive and demonstration overthrows doubt they will eventually supersede every other Invigorant and Restorative now employed in medical practice.

Eureka.—Archimedes is said to have uttered this word on finding out, after long and patient study, a method of detecting the adulteration of King Hiero's crown. So many others (after suffering for years with Consumption) have exclaimed when they tried NEWELL'S PULMONARY SYRUP and found that it cured them.

Florida.—"The land of flowers," where nature scatters with her generous hand beauty and fragrance, and burdens every zephyr with delightful odors. Such is REDINGTON & CO.'S FLORIDA WATER.

Cooper's Balm.—Though it may not be infallible it will stand the test with any other single compound in the world and ought to be in the possession of every Family, Traveler, Mariner and Boatman. Your own experience is the best testimony that can be had in reference to it; therefore try it for yourself, for it is a remedy to be at hand for every time of need, and is emphatically the PEOPLE'S MEDICINE.

What Constitutes a Lottery

District Court U. S. District of Oregon November Term 1868. The United States vs Cyrus Olney—Action to recover special tax

FINDINGS OF FACT AND LAW.

This cause being tried without the intervention of a jury in pursuance of the stipulation of the parties here of record the court now finds the following facts [illegible]

I. That the defendant on March 1, 1867 at Astoria, in the District aforesaid, being the owner of a large number of town lots in such town of Astoria, did then and there divide the greater portion of the same into six hundred parcels for distribution by lot among the persons who should become the purchasers thereof, as hereinafter stated.

II. That three hundred of such parcels consisted of one lot each of not less than fifty dollars value, and the other three hundred of such parcels as and by such division and the scheme hereinafter stated were denominated prize parcels and consisted of two hundred and sixty six each of the value of fifty dollars each and single lots varying in value from one hundred to six hundred dollars and one house and lot of the value of one thousand dollars and one cottage and three lots of the value of five thousand dollars.

III. That afterwards the defendant prepared a scheme for the sale and distribution of such parcels by lot and presented the same to the public by advertisements in different newspapers in general circulation and by a descriptive pamphlet, widely circulated, for the purpose of inducing the public to purchase tickets or shares, representing parcels in such scheme.

IV. That by the scheme aforesaid each of the parcels of property aforesaid were offered for sale at an uniform price of fifty dollars, and that on and before May 15, 1867, the defendant sold all the tickets or shares aforesaid, at the uniform price aforesaid, and thereupon in pursuance of the scheme aforesaid, the number of the lot or lots constituting each parcel was written on separate ballots and sealed up and placed in a box, and the name of each purchaser was written on as many separate ballots as he had purchased tickets or shares and sealed up and placed in another box, and thereafter, on the day last aforesaid, under the supervision of a committee of three persons, selected in pursuance of such scheme, a ballot was drawn from each of the boxes aforesaid, and the name of the purchaser and the description of the property thus drawn were recorded by a clerk, and then another ballot was so drawn from each of such boxes and recorded by the clerk as aforesaid, until all ballots were drawn from each box, and recorded as aforesaid and thereupon the persons whose names were thus drawn, were, in pursuance of such scheme, declared to be the purchasers of the parcel or parcels of property so drawn by them, and the defendant executed deeds to them, therefor, accordingly.

V. That about one third of the contracts for the purchase and sale of the tickets or shares in the scheme aforesaid, were in writing, in two parts, one of which was signed by the defendant, and in these words

"ASTORIA, May 1, 1867

"This certifies that Paul Corno has subscribed for twenty shares in my scheme for the sale and distribution of town lots in Astoria, Oregon, and will be entitled to a warranty deed for the property, which shall be drawn to him according to the prospectus, on payment of the note given for the purchase money.

(Signed) CYRUS OLNEY"

And the other of which was signed by the subscriber, and in these words

"$1,000 ASTORIA, May 1, 1867.

"For value received I promise to pay to the order of Cyrus Olney one thousand dollars, in gold coin. This note is given for twenty shares in the Astoria town lot distribution, and is payable when the deed is ready for delivery, according to the prospectus.

(Signed) PAUL CORNO"

VI. That the defendant during the period and between the dates aforesaid, or at any time thereafter, on account of the scheme and drawing aforesaid, did not pay to the United States the special tax, or any part thereof, by law imposed upon lottery ticket dealers.

And as a conclusion of law from the premises, the Court finds, that the defendant on and between the dates aforesaid, in selling the tickets or shares as aforesaid, in the scheme aforesaid, was engaged in the business of a lottery ticket dealer and that thereby such defendant became and still is liable to pay to the United States a special tax of one hundred dollars.

This action is brought to recover the sum of one hundred dollars, alleged to be due the United States from the defendant, as a special tax, for engaging in the business of lottery dealer. It was commenced, October 17, 1867, and tried by the court without the intervention of a jury, on November 13, thereafter, and has since been continued from term to term for deliberation and advisement. The facts of the case are stated in the findings of the court.

The law imposing this tax is found in subdivision 5 of section 79 of the Internal Revenue act of June 30, 1864, as amended by the act of July, 13, 1866, (14 Stats at large 116) which reads as follows:

"Lottery ticket dealers shall pay one hundred dollars. Every person, association, firm or corporation which shall make, sell or offer to sell lottery tickets or fractional parts thereof, or any token, certificate or device representing or intending to represent a lottery ticket or any fractional part thereof, or any policy of numbers in any lottery, or shall manage any lottery, or prepare schemes of lotteries or superintend the drawing of any lottery, shall be deemed a lottery ticket dealer."

The act [illegible] imposes a tax upon a dealer in lottery tickets and also declares who shall be deemed such dealer, but it does not define or limit the signification of the word lottery. A person to be liable as a dealer in lottery tickets must in some of the modes or instances mentioned in the statute, be engaged in the preparation, conduct or management of a lottery,—so that the liability of the defendant turns upon the question—What is a lottery? The answer to this question must be found in the meaning of the word, as established by usage and authority. I assume, with the argument for the defendant, that the legal and popular meaning of term coincides, and that it is used in the statute according to its primary and general acceptation. Indeed, I am not aware that the word has any technical or peculiar signification.

The word "lottery" is defined and used as follows by lexicographers and writers

"A distribution of prizes and blanks by chance a game of hazard in which small sums are ventured for the chance of obtaining a larger value either in money or other articles" Worcester's Dic

"A distribution of prizes by lot or chance" Webster's Dic

"A scheme for the distribution of prizes by chance." Bouvier's Dic

"A kind of game of hazard wherein several lots of merchandise are deposited in prizes for the benefit of the fortunate"—Rees Cyclopedia. "A sort of gaming contract by which, for a valuable consideration, one may by favor of the lot, obtain a prize of a value superior to the amount or value of that which he risks" American Cyclopedia. "That the chance of gain is naturally over valued, we may learn from the universal success of lotteries."—Smith's Wealth of Nations, B. 1, C. 10

All these authorities agree that where there is a distribution of prizes—something valuable—by chance or lot, that this constitutes a lottery. But the definitions from Worcester and the American Cyclopedia are the most complete. From each of these it expressly appears that a valuable consideration must be given for the chance to draw the prize.

Tried by this standard it is manifest that the scheme prepared and carried out by the defendant for the sale and distribution of these town lots was a lottery. True, the purchasers of tickets or shares were in any event to get something—at the least a lot, for the purposes of this scheme estimated to be worth $50. But it is not probable that any one would have purchased a ticket if it was certain that he would have received nothing in return but one of these so called fifty dollar lots. If the first three hundred lots could have been sold for fifty dollars each on account of their market value certainly the defendant would not have been improvident enough to put the other three hundred prize parcels in the market at the same price, which [illegible] were worth from $[illegible] to $5,000 each. This is neither reasonable nor probable.

The chance of obtaining $[illegible] for $50 was the enticing object which the scheme held up to the public as an inducement to purchase the shares and this "chance of gain" upon which depends "the universal success of lotteries," was to be determined by lot. This scheme has all the attributes and elements of a lottery. It is a distribution by lot of a certain number of prizes among [illegible] the number of persons, and that [illegible] very unequal in value. The certificate of purchase issued by the defendant to each purchaser is a [illegible] which he [illegible] the chance of drawing a prize of [illegible] times the value of the price of his ticket. It is evident that the first three hundred lots could not have been sold by any ordinary method at $50, each, if at all. This is also probably true of many of the prize parcels. Whatever may have been their intrinsic or future value, the evident aim of the scheme was to sell them for more than their market value, and this was to be accomplished by an appeal to the universal passion for playing at games of chance. The purchase of the ticket and the payment of fifty dollars was made for the chance of obtaining one of the prize parcels, representing to be worth many times that sum.

This was a lottery according to the common acceptation of the word. It was a lottery within the definitions in the dictionaries.

It matters not even if the purchaser was to receive the full value of his money in any event. As a matter of fact the money was paid for the chance of the prize also and would not have been paid without this inducement. The sale of the ticket by the defendant gave the purchaser the chance to obtain something more than he paid for. This was dealing in lottery tickets within the purview of the Revenue act.

The argument of the defendant assumes that the purchasers of the property bought the six hundred parcels in common, and after thus becoming the owners of the same adopted this method of distributing or dividing it among themselves.

If persons already owning family pictures or other property not susceptible of division or even equal division, choose to distribute by an appeal to lot, what has thus come to them [illegible] they had any scheme of so distributing it they are not within the definition of a lottery nor liable to this special tax. They have not given a valuable consideration for the chance of obtaining something of much greater value—a prize.

The argument of the defendant is ingenious and plausible, but it is based upon an incorrect assumption. It ignores the fact—the main spring of the whole transaction—that the tickets were sold and purchased for the avowed purpose of giving to each of the purchasers a chance to obtain a prize parcel by means of this subsequent allotment. The division by lot was not an after thought of the purchasers, but a prominent part of the original scheme of sale and distribution as prepared by defendant. No purchaser bought any particular lot or parcel, or any undivided interest in the whole property. Each purchaser bought the right to have, by allotment, one of the three hundred lots, estimated to be worth $50 each, and the chance of obtaining instead of such lot, one of three hundred prize parcels, represented to be worth from $100 to $5,000. The chance of obtaining one of these prizes—and even the most valuable one—rather than the $50 lot, induced the purchaser to buy and enabled the defendant to sell the certificate of purchase. Indeed, the sale of the first three hundred lots, in three hundred parcels, for fifty dollars each, upon the condition that they should be distributed among the purchasers by lot, would itself be a lottery unless the lots were in fact of equal value—which is very improbable.

The case is in almost every respect the counterpart of the celebrated case of the American Art Union, decided in New York, 1852. The scheme of the Art Union was, that by paying $5, any person could become a subscriber and entitled to an engraving and certain numbers of the Bulletin, containing the proceedings of the society, and the chance of obtaining one of a number of valuable paintings, which in December of each year, were to be distributed by lot among the members. The drawing was to be conducted precisely as in this case,—by placing the name of the subscriber in one box and the number of the painting in another. A number being drawn from the latter box, a name was drawn from the former one, and the person whose name was thus drawn, was to be the owner of the prize represented by that number.

The Supreme Court decided that this was a lottery (14 How 577). The case was then taken to the Court of Appeals and argued on behalf of the Art Union with great ability. The Court of Appeals affirmed the decision of the Supreme Court that the scheme was a lottery. (7 New York Rep 228.) The proceeding in the New York courts was to enforce the forfeiture of the property proposed to be distributed by this scheme, and the case turned upon the construction or interpretation of the word "lottery" in the prohibition contained in the constitution of the State—"No lottery shall hereafter be authorized in this State."

This action is simply to enforce the collection of a tax imposed by the United States upon all lotteries. A revenue law is not to be strictly construed, but rather the contrary, so as to attain the ends for which it was enacted. With the policy or impolicy of allowing lotteries the revenue act does not interfere. It simply provides for taxing them, whenever and wherever they in fact take place. They are specially and heavily taxed, not for the purpose of encouraging or prohibiting them, but upon the same ground that many other special taxes are laid; because, as a rule, it is well known, that their owners and managers receive from the public large gains, without giving any equivalent therefor.

Keeping this end in view, it is apparent that the Revenue Act ought to be so construed, as to include every case of the distribution of property or money, which contains the essential elements of a lottery—the payment of a valuable consideration for a chance of obtaining by lot, something more valuable in return.

It is true, the defendant may have engaged in this scheme without any thoughts of becoming a dealer in what the law deems lottery tickets. Indeed, other motives than the hope of actual gain may have induced him to make the sale and distribution that he did. In the prospects of the scheme, published by him, he asks the question

"Why is this property put into a raffle at prices which average less than half the selling rates?" and answers it as follows:

"Only because the sale to citizens, for actual improvement, at full prices, at the rate of three to five thousand dollars a year, on time as heretofore, is no longer adapted to the circumstances of the proprietor, who has become an invalid, and must hasten to complete the improvements and enterprise which he has in hand."

But even upon this mild view of the scheme, for the purpose of taxation, it must be considered, or rather is a lottery. By it many persons are induced to buy property, which has no present market value, and which they otherwise would not purchase at any price, because there is set before them the chance of obtaining by lot a certain prize or piece of property of much greater value than the consideration advanced.

Mr. Zachariah Wilson, Portland, Oregon, writes,

"It requires an article of real merit and intrinsic value to sustain itself during the stormy ordeal of public experiments. Murray's Improved Magic Oil has stood the test of time and has not been found wanting. The astonishing efficacy that I experienced—its curing me of Chronic Rheumatism and Lumbago of long standing entitles Dr. Murray's Premium Lung and Liver Balsam and Improved Magic Oil to a high rank in the list of remedies for Rheumatism, Lumbago, Ear ache, Distressing Pains etc."

John English of Howell Prairie, Marion county, Oregon writes.

"I was taken with a severe attack of Rheumatism in my knee joints and extremities accompanied with a severe cough for two months so that I had to use crutches, meanwhile trying all remedies in common use. Your Magic Oil and Balsam gave me instant relief and I was able to walk in four days without crutches. I have not felt any rheumatism since. I have seen your family medicines used with excellent success. I have no hesitation in saying it is the best preparation for family use ever [illegible] for these complaints. I am now on my way to South America after residing in Oregon twenty years. I must now have two dozens Balsam and two dozens of your Magic Oil dollar bottles as I am sure they are the best remedies in Oregon, and I would not be without them in my house, and when this package of medicine is exhausted I will send to your office in Portland for a fresh supply.

who holds the exclusive right to the same in the State of Oregon and is now ready to accommodate the farmers of the State with machines and to sell county rights to manufacture the same.

This machine saves three-fourths the cost and labor of sowing [illegible] of a machine—the same team [illegible] for sowing and harrowing [illegible] for harrowing [illegible] his heavy sack [illegible] walking and lugging his grain in.

The inventor of this valuable aid to farmers is a man of large experience in seeding machines and has happily succeeded in this invention, in producing a machine which while it carries the farmer as if on a sulky sows wheat, barley, oats and peas with greater regularity than the sower in [illegible], and at the same time the harrow attached to it immediately behind covers the grain [illegible]. Any intelligent farmer who has ever carried a sack and sowed grain will readily see that the X-L-SIOR Grain Sower will save its entire cost [illegible] in this State as it has already been in California and [illegible] after this manner

The proceeds of the Lectures will be applied to aid in completing the New Church Edifice.

LECTURE FOURTH—OCT 27TH
Science against Atheism and Pantheism, and in favor of the personality, greatness and goodness of God.

LECTURE FIFTH—NOV 3D.
Geology in favor of the Bible.

LECTURE SIXTH—NOV 10TH

LECTURE SEVENTH—NOV 17TH
The Testimony of Physiology to the Immateriality of the Soul.

LECTURE EIGHTH—NOV. 24TH
The Mediatorial Doctrine of Christianity in accordance with Nature.

The above programme is both novel and bold. Dr. Wythe takes up the gauntlet thrown down by modern infidelity. We trust the Lectures will afford our citizens intellectual recreation and profit, as well as aid the Trustees in completing the edifice which promises to be such an ornament to the city.

HIRAM SMITH'S

Ophthalmic Panacea!

IS WITHOUT DOUBT THE MOST WONDERFUL EYE HEALER that has yet been discovered.

IT CURES the most stubborn and hopeless cases of CHRONIC INFLAMMATIONS, GRANULATED LIDS, FILMS, &c., as has been sufficiently demonstrated during the few months in which it has been brought into public notice. The proprietor is so fully assured of its INFALLIBILITY that he WARRANTS A CURE OR REFUNDS THE MONEY. It can do the eyes no harm and a trial of it is therefore without injury or expense to the patient if no cure is effected.

It has cured cases of FIVE, SIX, NINE, FIFTEEN and even EIGHTEEN YEARS standing in Harrisburg, Linn county, Oregon, and its vicinity, to which the following persons will bear witness

E. B. MOORE,	NATHANIEL BELL,
A. L. WALLACK,	G. R. WARD,
Mrs. MONTGOMERY,	JOHN M. HOLLOWAY
W. B. PORTER	ROB'T RAMSEY

And others in that vicinity.

Persons afflicted with the distressing scourge of diseased eyes are advised to give the remedy a fair trial on the NO CURE, NO PAY and NO INJURY plan.

TO THE UNFORTUNATE.

NEW REMEDIES, NEW REMEDIES

Dr. Gibbon's Dispensary,

616 KEARNEY STREET, NEAR COMMERCIAL, San Francisco. Established in 1854, for the treatment of Sexual and Seminal Diseases, such as Gonorrhea, Gleet, Stricture, Syphilis in all its forms, Seminal Weakness, Impotency, etc. Skin Diseases (of years standing) and Ulcerated Legs successfully treated.

Horrible Diseases.

How many thousands of persons, both male and female, are there who are suffering out a miserable existence from the effects of secret indulgences, or from virus absorbed into the system! Look at their pallid, emaciated and disfigured faces and their broken-down constitutions, disqualifying them for the happiness of marriage or the enjoyment of life. In this horrid situation thousands suffer until death closes the scene. Let parents, guardians, friends attend to those who are suffering with any of these horrible life-destroying maladies, see that they are cared for and cured before it be too late. Send them immediately to Doctor Gibbon, a physician who has made private disease his especial study for years, and who is certain to cure the most inveterate cases without mercury or any injurious drugs. It is important to those who are afflicted, or to those who are interested in the welfare of their friends, to be careful of the many pretended doctors who infest all cities, publishing their skill in curing all diseases in a few days imposing upon the public by using the names of eminent physicians from Europe and other places. Be therefore careful and make strict inquiry, or you may fall into the hands of those charlatans.

Seminal Weakness.

Seminal Emissions, the consequence of self-abuse. This solitary vice, or depraved sexual indulgence, is practised by the youth of both sexes to an almost unlimited extent, producing, with unerring certainty, the following train of morbid symptoms, unless combatted by scientific medical measures, viz: Sallow countenance, dark spots under the eyes, pain in the head, ringing in the ears, noise like the rustling of leaves and rattling of chariots, uneasiness about the loins, weakness of the limbs, confused vision, blunted intellect, loss of confidence, diffidence in approaching strangers, a dislike to form new acquaintances, a disposition to shun society, loss of memory, hectic flushes, pimples and various eruptions about the face, furred tongue, fetid breath, coughs, consumption, night sweats, monomania and frequent insanity. If relief be not obtained, should apply immediately either in person or by letter, and have a cure effected by his new and scientific mode of treating this disease, which never fails of effecting a quick and radical cure. Dr. G. will give One Hundred Dollars to any person who will prove satisfactorily to him that he was cured of this complaint by either of the San Francisco quacks.

MARRIED MEN,

Or those who contemplate marriage, who are suffering under any of those fearful maladies, should not forget the sacred responsibility resting upon them nor delay to obtain immediate relief.

DOCTOR GIBBON is responsible, and will give to each patient a written instrument, binding himself to effect a radical and permanent cure, or make no charge.

CURED AT HOME.

Persons at a distance may be CURED AT HOME, by addressing a letter to Dr. Gibbon, stating case, symptoms, length of time the disease has continued, and have medicines promptly forwarded, free from damage and curiosity, to any part of the country, with full and plain directions for use, for Ten Dollars, sent in registered letter or through Wells, Fargo & Co.

Caution to the Unfortunate.

Beware of the San Francisco quacks and pretenders, who with bogus sworn to certificates dupe the unwary. Some of the self styled doctors, whose names are to be found in the daily and weekly newspapers of San Francisco and other places, are tradesmen, and became too lazy to work at their trades. Some are tinsmiths, shoemakers, newspaper carriers, intelligence office keepers, etc. Look over the San Francisco Directory and you will not find their Medical Institutes in it, but you will find their former occupations in it. Look at the Directory for 1862 and 1863. The only way to avoid imposition is to make enquiry—it will cost you nothing and may save you many regrets; for as advertising physicians, in eight cases out of ten, are bogus, there is no safety in trusting any of them until you know who and what they are. Dr. Gibbon does not deceive people by exhibiting bogus titles, certificates, pretended patient's letters, etc. Dr. Gibbon will satisfy persons who may call at his office of his ability to treat diseases that he proposes to cure.

Address DR. J. F. GIBBON, 616 Kearney street, corner Commercial, San Francisco. Post Office Box 252.

REMEMBER TO PUT BOX 252 ON THE LETTER.

Consultations FREE.

Correspondents will please inform DR. GIBBON that they read his advertisement in the Daily Oregonian
